

SIMPL EXTERNAL PUBLICATION RELEASE FORM

Purpose:

This form authorizes you to announce and distribute technical reports, talks and papers externally to HP. This includes submitting them for review to, and presenting them at, conferences, workshops, and journals. Explicit approval to submit a paper externally must be received BEFORE this is done - it is not ok to do this "after the fact".

The INSTRUCTIONS are at the end of this form.

PUBLICATION INFORMATION

This paper ...

☒ is to be submitted for publication

☐ has already been accepted for publication or presentation if so, was a prior version of the submission approved for external release?

Target publication: Masters thesis in ECE at Carnegie Mellon University

Publication date: August 2009
Location: Pittsburgh PA

Please select one of the following:

- ☒ this is essentially the final submission, ready to go
☐ this is a draft, and still likely to be revised
☐ this is still largely conceptual: only a very early draft exists

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY INFORMATION =====

Has this material been reviewed for possible IP protection issues?
(typically this is done with your patent coordinator)

☐ no ☒ yes: by whom? Eric Anderson, Alistair Veitch; given IP agreement with CMU, no IP will be pursued

If not, by when will this review be done? _____

Was any material determined to be potentially patentable?

☒ no ☐ yes: has a patent disclosure been filed with HP legal?

☐ no ☐ yes: when? _____

If not, when will
such a disclosure be filed? _____

Note to authorizers: if there is patentable material here, then the patent application (not just the disclosure) must be completed by the time of publication - or we may lose rights to protect our IP outside the United States. Even if there is no intention to pursue foreign filing rights, a patent application needs to be filed in a timely fashion as soon as possible - and certainly no later than 12 months after the date of first publication.

NON-HP LICENSING =====

Does this material contain information about named non-HP products (hardware or software)?

☒ no ☐ yes: what products? _____

Do the license terms (if applicable) permit
this use?

☐ no ☐ yes ☐ not applicable

IMPORTANT: If "no", you must receive permission before submission - otherwise we may be liable.

APPROVAL SIGNATURE(S)

At least one signature of an HP functional manager (e.g. Laboratory director) is required. For SIMPL, this is Alistair Veitch.

Authors: feel free to provide additional justification you think your case may warrant, such as any special circumstances surrounding this request.

Deadline by which approval is required: ASAP
(typically the submission date)

INSTRUCTIONS

- * Fill out the form, replacing all the underlined areas with your data
- * Obtain the author signatures
- * Attach a copy of the latest (or most representative) draft of the paper
- * Send it for approval

Please be sure to allow enough time for the approval to get back to you. If in doubt, submit an early draft rather than leave it too late.

Notes:

- * Throughout, the term "paper" is used to mean technical reports, conference papers, journal articles, posters, talks, etc -- in general anything that will be "published" externally to HP.
- * Once approval has been granted, file a copy of this release in a safe place. (e.g., with your copy of the submitted paper). An online scanned form is perfectly acceptable.
- * If the paper/talk is accepted, you will probably need to submit the appropriate copyright assignment forms. But they aren't needed for the external-submission approval process. The forms can be found on the HPL Technical Reports web page:
